Part 2: Reading Comprehension (Items 46-60)

Directions: Read the following passages and choose the best answer for each question.

PASSAGE 1 (Items 46-50)

Hi Sandra,

(1) How's it going? We haven't been in touch for ages. Hope all's well with you. Life's pretty busy here as usual. I've got a new job as a tutor at teaching Italian, math, and basic science. I've been working there for almost three months now. It's hard work but I really enjoy it. Teaching young kids is so exciting for me.

(2) Anyway, the really big news is I'm pregnant. We were so surprised, I've been told I'm having twins. Jack and I are over the moon but a bit nervous though. We'll be off on a trip to London this weekend. We want to see Nina and Dylan there. I need some advice from them because they also have twins.

(3) Miss you so much! Always remember our good old days in Tokyo as exchange students 10 years ago. I'd love to hear all your news. Are you still working in Bangkok? We've just moved to a bigger house so maybe you can come and visit us sometime here in Liverpool.

Looking forward to hearing from you!

Love,

Evelyn

46. What does the phrase "over the moon" in the second paragraph mean?

PASSAGE 3 (Items 56 - 60)

(1) Located on the east coast of Scotland, St Andrews is known as the 'home of golf,' but it's a residence shared by some highly disruptive roommates-seagulls. As they circle for food, the fear of being the unfortunate landing spot for their waste is a constant anxiety, with several staff and fans already voicing complaint.

(2) Fans navigating the Old Course during the week will be familiar with a pair of hawks, an Indian eagle-owl, and a tawny eagle. The guardian birds perch on their handler's gloves to scare off seagulls from the picnic area, as well as the 1st and 18th grandstands. The birds come from the nearby Elite Falconry, hired for the event, with the handler named John on lunchtime duty for Thursday's opening round after a flurry of seagull activity during the early morning.

(3) "Without us here, the seagulls would be dive-bombing people trying to steal their food," John told CNN Sports. Since seagulls are not a typical cuisine of the four birds of prey, they don't fly around the course and instead sit calmly on their handler's glove for the duration of their watch, their presence alone enough to frighten away the unwanted visitors.
